Visit Germany and Learn the Language - a 2-City-Language Program

This comprehensive language program offers people from all over the world the possibility to improve their German and get to know the country and its culture in only a short time.

Many people who would like to visit Germany ponder about the question whether to do a culture trip or a language course there. The language program "German Language and Culture in Berlin and Bamberg" might be a perfect answer to this question since it combines both.

This special language study program has been developed by the TREFFPUNKT Language Institute in Bamberg and the BERLASCO Language School in Berlin and is now offered for the first time this summer. The result of the cooperation between the two language institutes is a German language course which takes place in Berlin and Bamberg and is complemented by a variety of accompanied cultural and leisure activities. As a result, participants not only learn the German language, but also experience two very typical German cities.

With a duration of only two or three weeks, depending on the chosen course type, this comprehensive language program is an ideal option for those with only little time. Despite the comparatively short course duration, a high level of education guarantees a significant improvement of the participant's German language skills. In combination with the comprehensive and varied cultural and leisure program, this language trip to Germany will certainly be an unforgettable experience.

During their stay in the German capital Berlin and the World Heritage City of Bamberg, participants get to know the country and the culture in many different ways: while walking through the cobbled streets of the venerable old city center of Bamberg, enjoying a refreshing beer at one of the traditional family breweries, standing in front of the imposing Brandenburg Gate in Berlin or visiting the famous Reichstag building. Thereby, participants will have plenty of opportunities to talk to local people and thus to considerably improve their communicative skills in German.

Hence, the program "German Language and Culture in Berlin and Bamberg" is principally characterized by a high intensity, regarding both, learning German, as well as the cultural experiences. A German language course can hardly be more interesting and varied.

In the summer of 2011 three courses are offered, each with a duration of two or three weeks, depending on the respective course level:

- 1) Level A 2: July 18 until August 06, 2011
- 2) Level B 1: August 01 until August 13, 2011
- 3) Level B2/C1: August 08 until August 20, 2011
- 4) Level B2/C1: August 16 until August 27, 2011

Please note that this is a limited offer. If you are interested in the program, you should thus not hesitate – instead, visit the corresponding website of the TREFFPUNKT Language Institute (<http://www.learn-german.com/partner/germancourse-summer-berlin-bamberg.html>).

With the 2-city German course, your stay in Germany will be an everlasting experience.
